The district board shall provide telecourses and related materials created as part of the officially assigned teacher responsibility and related written or developed materials shall be the property of the district board.

Any patent or copyright of such telecourses and written or developed materials shall be in the name of the district board; however, such telecourses and related materials shall bear the name of the assigned teacher.

When such telecourses and related materials are to be distributed, the arrangements for such distribution shall be made by MATC.

When such distribution of telecourses and related assigned materials is made within the State of Wisconsin, all revenues from such distribution shall be retained by MATC.

When such distribution of telecourses and related assigned materials is made outside the State of Wisconsin, the revenues from such distribution shall be returned to MATC and to faculty according to the Local 212 contract.
