A Federal Unsubsidized Additional Loan is a financial aid resource that is available to eligible students through the federal government to help pay for educational expenses. Loan money is money that you are required to pay back. If you file bankruptcy, you are still required to pay back all student loan money.

- Dependent Students may qualify for up to: $2,000.
- Dependent Students whose parents applied for and were denied a Parent Plus loan may qualify for up to: $6,000. (Denial letter needs to be submitted with application.)
- Independent Students may be eligible for up to: $6,000.

Student must be in a financial aid eligible program and enrolled in a minimum of six credits to qualify for a student loan.

Students must complete the "Online Additional Loan Counseling" session, if they have never attended the in-person "Mandatory Additional Loan Counseling" session in the past, in order for the loan to be disbursed.

Statement of Understanding:

I have read the above information and I understand that I must meet all eligibility requirements and that the Federal Unsubsidized Additional Loan amount that I receive, if approved, will be contingent upon my cost of attendance budget, other financial aid, annual and aggregate loan amounts that I have already received. If the loan amount that I requested exceeds my eligibility, the loan will be processed for the lesser amount.
