ENG-201 English 1 (3 Credits) Add Course to Plan

Introduces students to the basic principles of college-level composition, research, critical reading, and critical thinking with an emphasis on academic writing conventions. In addition to examining the content and structure of academic essays, instruction in sentence structure and usage is provided as needed. Written work for this course consists of essays that are expository and analytical in nature. Major attention also is given to the preparation and writing of a research essay through writing assignments which emphasize finding, evaluating, and incorporating appropriate secondary sources into students' written work.

 This course was attempted or already completed.

Requisites:
(Accuplacer Reading score >= 77 or an ACT Reading score >=18) and (an Accuplacer Sentence score >=89 or an ACT English score >= 18)) or (ENG-152 or ENG-200 with a minimum grade of C). - Must be completed prior to taking this course.

ENG-202 English 2 (3 Credits) Add Course to Plan

The intent is to give students training beyond English 201 in advanced composition, research, and critical thinking by reading a selection of literary genres chosen by the instructor. Students will increase their understanding and appreciation of the genres by analyzing and writing about prose fiction, drama, and poetry. Writing assignments and essays will consist of literary analysis, persuasion, and, when appropriate, the use of secondary sources. Major attention also is given to the preparation and writing of a research essay through writing assignments which emphasize finding, evaluating, and incorporating appropriate secondary sources into students' written work.

 This course was attempted or already completed.
